About GTCC's projects

The Town Centre Chaplaincy aims to:

- Enhance understanding, trust and cooperation between communities of work, faith, leisure and society;
- Provide a caring, listening and supportive presence for anyone who lives in, works in or visits the towncentre.

We run 3 distinct projects, to support people in different ways:

Be an angel: volunteer

A streetangels

Care and support for vulnerable young people & adults on Guildford's streets, every Friday and Saturday night

Street Angels have been serving people on Guildford's streets since October 2008 and make a positive impact on crime and antisocial behaviour by providing a calming presence late at night.

"Town centres patrolled by Street Angels see marked reductions in violent crime, sexual assaults and antisocial behaviour"

Bishop Andrew

communityangels

Befriending adults of all ages who face loneliness and isolation

Our volunteers visit people in their homes, providing companionship and support to reconnect with the local community. Support is personalised and may range from chatting over a cup of tea to going for walks, trying a new activity, or accessing other types of help.

"We're all becoming more aware of how many lonely people there are who won't reach out and there needs to be someone to make that first step and that first connection"

Guildford Community Warden

volunteerchaplains

Providing spiritual and emotional support in the workplace

Chaplains are available on a confidential basis to listen, without judging. They visit local workplaces including companies, department stores, theatres, shopping centres, nightclubs, banks, civic offices and leisure locations.

"Chaplains come from all walks of life"
