ABOUT GTCC'S PROJECTS

Founded in 2008 by the churches of Guildford, as a gift to the people of the town, we now run three distinct projects. We aim to provide non-judgemental support and care for vulnerable individuals who live in, work or visit the town centre. Our Ambassador Angels would be happy to come and tell your group or church more about our work.

Street Angels serve the people of Guildford as a calming, positive presence every Friday and Saturday night. They make a real impact on reducing crime and anti-social behaviour by providing a compassionate presence to reduce tensions, late at night.

We engage with the homeless and offer practical acts of kindness for those in need. Whether unwell, separated from your friends or no phone and means to get home, we can help.

streetangels

Town centres patrolled by Street Angels see marked reductions in violent crime, sexual assaults and antisocial behaviour.

We're all becoming more aware of how many lonely people there are who won't reach out and there needs to be someone to make that first step and that first connection.

Guildford Community Warden

Community Angels befriend adults of all ages who face loneliness and isolation.

Our trained volunteers support individuals face to face or by telephone for around six months, offering companionship, building confidence and finding ways to reconnect with their local community.

Befriending may range from chatting over a coffee to going for walks, trying a new activity or accessing other types of help. Many clients face complex issues and are referred by the NHS through social prescribing and GP surgeries, but self-referrals are also welcome.

volunteerchaplains

Volunteer Chaplains can be found in a variety of town workplaces ranging from retail, GP practices, Police & Fire Services, to serving the homeless.

They are available for those of all faiths or none. They offer confidential, non-judgemental, listening, and support and are happy to pray with people if that is requested.

It's so good to know that I can speak to someone in confidence.
